

What has changed in the new Regulations with respect to AMOs?

Written by Administrator

Monday, 08 March 2010 15:43 -

Several things have changed which applicants need to familiarize themselves with. For example, the Maintenance Exposition and Engineering Manual has now become the Maintenance Procedures Manual and the Maintenance Control Manual respectively and with respect to certification, there is no longer a requirement for a Certificate of Maintenance Review.