

STATEMENT FROM THE EASTERN CARIBBEAN CIVIL AVIATION AUTHORITY (ECCAA)

Monday, 22 February 2010 20:00

Although the bodies were identified based on their jewelry and their driver's license, secondary confirmation through a laboratory identification process will be conducted by end of this week. When this is completed, the repatriation process will take place.

The ECCAA wishes to express its deepest condolences to the families of Messrs James and McAlpin. We would also like to thank everyone for their prayers and support during this very difficult time.
